Continuous rains have caused great distress in Ireland.

The Judicial Expenses bill has been approved as modified.

Several thunder storms in the Western States Sunday destroyed much property and several lives.

Because the editor of the Tribune caricatured several French statesmen he got six months imprisonment and a fine of 2,000 francs.

There is a prospect of a peace with Zululand. Cetawayo is anxious to effect a treaty, declaring that any terms will be acceptable.

Constantinople papers are forbidden to publish Egyptian news, and European telegrams have been stopped by the authorities.

Arnold, a Democratic New York Assemblyman, has become disgusted at the rebel Congress, and comes out boldly as a Republican.

There is a mysterious coolness between Russia and Germany and the Czar has given up his visit to the empire in consequence.

The President has not determined whether he will call Congress together again or not should it adjourn without making the appropriations.

Chastine Cox, the negro who brutally murdered Mrs. Hull in New York, is being made a hero of by a certain class, who note his every word and action as something wonderful.

The coffin containing the remains of the Prince Imperial, on its arrival at Pieter, Maritzburg, was wrapped in the French colors. His sword was laid thereon and his horse led after.

President Hayes has vetoed the Marshal Appropriation bill, on substantially the same grounds as taken in the other vetoes—interference of one department into the business of another.

The Democrats insist that they will adjourn immediately and not back down another inch from their position, and if called together again to sent the same bills exactly again to the President and adjourn. The Chairman on Appropriations says he will not call the Committee together again.

As the works will be shut down for overhauling and repairs on the Fourth for some days, visitors will not be admitted at the Sierra Nevada mine July 5. The next visiting day will be July 20.

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

A correspondent writes as follows about the flower of a well known plant: "I have discovered a remedy for consumption. It has cured a number of cases after they had commenced bleeding at the lungs and the hectic flush was already on the cheek. After trying this remedy to my own satisfaction, I have thought philanthropy required that I should let it be known to the world. It is common mullen steeped strongly and sweetened with coffee sugar, and drunk freely. Young or old plants are good, dried in the shade and kept in clean bags. The medicine must be continued from three to six months, according to the nature of the disease. It is very good for the blood vessels also. It strengthens and builds up the system instead of taking away the strength. It makes good blood and takes inflammation away from the lungs. It is the wish of the writer that every periodical in the United States, Canada and Europe should publish this remedy for the benefit of the human family. Lay this up and keep it in the house ready for use."

The Russian revolutionists have coined a copper medal "for the perpetual remembrance of April 2 (14), 1879"—the day on which Solovieff made his attempt upon the Czar's life. The medal exhibits on one side a bust of the Czar, against whom a revolver is directed, and bears the inscription "Down with autocracy." On the reverse side is the conventional figure of Liberty, who is handing bread and salt to a group of Russian peasant-folks. The inscription runs, "For Liberty and the People." The oldest thing is that they were distributed for a whole day among the lowest order of police, who are seldom able to read. They are informed that it was struck in commemoration of the deliverance of the Emperor from the hand of the assassin.

Mrs. Ponsonby de Tomkyns writes: "My dear Mrs. Talbot Browne, we are so dreadfully distressed; but a horrid previous engagement prevents us from accepting your quite too delightful invitation to dinner on the— (Viva voce). "Ponsonby." "Yes my love." "What day was it that Talbot Brownes people asked us for?" "The fifteenth, my love." "This month, or next?" "Next month, my love." (Writes) "Fifteenth of next month. I can't tell you how wretched we both are in consequence; and with our kindest regards to you both."

RUBICS AND DRIBS.

I heard of a rather amusing reply given the other evening at a ball by an American girl in London society, who had strayed away from the ball-room. Her mother subsequently discovered her in a remote nook with a gentleman, who had his arm around her waist, little fingers on his manly shoulder. "Daughter, what's all this?" exclaimed the irate mama. Saucy cheeks looked up calmly and replied: "Mamama, allow me to introduce Captain X. to you. I had promised him a dance, but I was so tired that I couldn't keep my word, and I'm just giving him a sitting-still waltz instead."—[Olive Logan's London Letter.

"The Old Oaken Bucket," was written fifty or more years ago by a printer named Samuel Woodworth. He was in the habit of dropping into a noted drinking saloon kept by one Mallory. One day, after drinking a glass of brandy and water, he smacked his lips and declared that Mallory's brandy was superior to any drink he had ever tasted.

"No," said Mallory, "you are mistaken. There was a drink which in both our estimations far surpassed this."

"What was that?" incredulously asked Woodworth.

"The fresh spring water we used to drink from the old oaken bucket that hung in the well, after returning from the field on a sultry day."

"Very true," replied Woodworth, teardrops glistening in his eyes.

Returning to his printing office, he seated himself at his desk and began to write. In half an hour, the old oaken bucket, the iron bound bucket, the moss-covered bucket which hung in the well, was embalmed in an inspiring song that has become as familiar as a household word.

THE RICH CALIFORNIA BANKER.

When it became known that one of the richest California bankers had left the Pacific Coast and transferred his base of operations to the New York Stock Exchange, all the shrewd financiers watched his course with keen interest to see how he would succeed. The result has emphatically proved the wealthy banker's sagacity. Besides having a much and more promising field to operate in, he is known to have been in several stock combinations that paid immense profits. By the combination method of operating in stocks Messrs. Lawrence & Co. Bankers, N. Y. unite orders of thousands of customers, in different sums, into one vast capital, and operate them as a mighty whole, dividing profits pro rata among shareholders every 30 days. Capital in any amount from $10 to 100,000 can be used with great success in these pools. $25 would pay $100 profit. $500 would make $5,000 or 10 per cent, on the stock during the month. Messrs. Lawrence & Co.'s new circular (mailed free) gives "two unerring rules for success," and full particulars, so that any one can operate in stocks, and make money. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co. Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y.

WHO MAY BE SUFFERING FROM THE effects of youthful follies or indiscretion will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. DR. SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every case of venereal weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.
MIDDLE-AGED MEN.
There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakness of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits aropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkyish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance.
There are many men who die of this difficulty ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of venereal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genital urinary organs.
